Summer Reading

The Indianapolis-Marion County Public Library will present its 1993 Summer Reading Program, "20,000 Reads Under the Sea," from June 14 through August 7. The program is available at all library locations and is open to all ages (including adults!)

Points earned by reading (or being read to for pre-readers) may be redeemed for a variety of prizes including Wendy's food coupons, paperback books, Indianapolis Indians tickets and much more! For more information or to register, go to the library!

Transition Discussion Groups

Many people at ISD have been using the term "transition" to describe our process for becoming a bilingual and bicultural school, but what does "transition" really mean? How does it differ from "change"? What are the natural phases and emotions that happen during a transition? How does the concept of organizations and people in transition relate to empowerment and participatory management?

These are some of the questions that will be discussed during Transition Discussion Groups this summer. If you are interested in reading about transition and then getting together with other ISD staff to discuss what you have read, please contact Transition Consultant Ann Titus, extension 162 TTY/Voice. Let her know:

How many times would you like to meet during the summer?
Would you prefer day or evening meetings?
What day of the week would be best for you?

Please contact Ann before June 11 if you are interested. For those who want some summer reading on transition but do not wish to attend discussion groups, Ann suggests Managing Transitions: Making the Most of Change, by William Bridges, and Pedagogy of the Oppressed, by Paulo Freire.

To the Editor:

A former elementary art teacher and day care director, I made the decision last August to care for children in my home until my daughter goes to first grade in two years. That decision was a turning point in my life. As a result I had the great fortune to meet Jodee and Rusty Crace and their children Tyler and R.J. last fall.

They were my first exposure to the Deaf world. When I met Jodee I knew nothing about ASL or Deaf culture. I agreed to care for her infant son, Tyler, who happens to be Deaf. This was an easy decision since to me, a baby is a baby, especially one so sweet as he seemed to be. The need to communicate with Tyler stirred my initial interest in learning ASL; however, I've become increasingly fascinated with (and sometimes overwhelmed by) the many facets of this subject.

I have found that my Deaf friends and acquaintances are friendly, patient with my questions and mistakes, and extremely supportive of my efforts. When, as Tyler's babysitter, I (and my two children) recently toured ISD with Jodee Crace, we were greeted cordially by everyone we met. I found positive messages everywhere, from the wildflowers on the campus grounds to the thought-provoking visuals on the walls. ISD is a school of which to be proud. I'm very glad I had another opportunity to increase my understanding of Deaf culture.

Sincerely,

Donna Staggs

School Publications

1887- First School Publication -
The Indiana Deaf-Mute Journal
On November 29, 1887 the first edition of the Journal was published as a biweekly. In April of 1888 the paper became a weekly.

1889 - The school paper is now know as
The Silent Hoosier—Vol. 3, #1, September, 1889

1920 - 21 First class book - 46 pages with a black cover and orange print on the title page - called The Orange and Black. John Travis was the printing instructor.

1933- The school paper now has an attachment called The Little Paper Family, but primary students called it "The Little Hoosier."

1935 - Senior Class members published three issues of The Senior Bell in March, April, and May of 1935

The school publication is now printed in magazine format as a monthly. Superintendent Raney served as Editor, John O'Brien as printing instructor. The old name, The Silent Hoosier, is changed to The Indiana Hoosier.

1936 - A trial copy of a student newspaper, The Campus Reporter, was distributed in early February to teachers and students in the Advanced Department (High School) it was published biweekly through the end of the school year, June, 1936. Max Spanger, '37, was the editor.

1937 - The school paper, The Hoosier, celebrates its Golden Jubilee (1887 - 1937)

Athletics Updates

Coaching Position Open

Applications are still being accepted for cheerleading coaching positions. Contact Acting Athletic Director Mike Paulone for more information or to apply.

Athletic Banquet Addendum

Due to a mix-up, one trophy did not arrive in time to be presented at the ISD Athletic Banquet. Dawn Walker should have received a trophy for Best All-Around Cheerleader. She shares this honor with Rosa Gallimore.

Amber Tucker Award

The Elementary Department established the Amber Tucker Award two years ago in memory of ISD student Amber Tucker, who died in 1991 in a bus accident.

The award is given to the elementary student who has shown the best attitude throughout the school year. Elementary teachers vote to choose the recipient, who receives a plaque, a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, and has his or her name placed on the large plaqe on display in the lobby of the elementary department.

The winner for the 1992 - '93 school year is 4th grade student Bryan Huser!

ISD congratulates Bryan!
